Accessing the Crime Mapping Site:

STEP #1: To access the site you can go directly to www.jaxsheriff.org and select the top left button with the three horizontal lines. The button will then “flyout” providing access to navigate to different areas of the site. Then select “Crime Statistics/Crime Mapping” from the navigation menu (see image below).

STEP #2: You will be directed to the UCR & Online Crime Mapping page (see image below). Click the link for Crime Mapping.

STEP #3: A disclaimer page will appear and you must accept the terms to proceed to the site (see image below).

STEP #4: The application will open and look something like the graphic below (see image below).
1. Select Crime Type
Users can display all or specific crime types on the map. Select the “What” button from the left-side toolbar. The pop-out menu will provide the seventeen (17) incident categories to choose from.

2. Select Location
Users may search for crimes (up to 2 miles) around a specific address or location of interest. Use the search box above the map and select “Go”.

3. Select Location
Users may search for crimes (up to 2 miles) around a specific address or location of interest. Select the “Where” button from the left-side.

4. Select Date
Users can adjust dates by selecting the “When” button from the left-side toolbar. Select a preset date parameter or a custom date range (up to 180 days from the current date).

5. Reports/Charts
Users can produce reports and visualize graphs for their filtered crime selection by selecting “Reports” or “Charts” from the left-side toolbar.

6. Crime Alerts
Users can select “Receive Alerts” to create automated email alerts for crime near a specific address or location of interest. Note: The larger the radius, the greater the email volume.

7. Summary
Users can view the map summary, including crime type, location, and date.
